

free food

Free farm animals from cruel farming practices.
Choose restaurants that choose humane food.

The RSPCA's Choose Wisely initiative asks businesses to commit to using free-range or barn-laid eggs and humanely farmed chicken meat and pork products at a Gold, Silver or Bronze level based on whether they use them in all or some of their products.

This is a big commitment so we're also asking consumers to support those businesses that take this step and to encourage those still using unapproved products to make the change.

And when next you're standing in the egg aisle or deli section in the supermarket, the RSPCA asks shoppers to choose wisely and help us get hens out of cages and a better deal for pigs.

The power is in your hands.
